I remember when You me and Kayla were on the truck and we couldn't find out kitty so we drove back 79 miles to the truck stop thinking that kitty got out of truck and we didn't know You me and Kayla searched for along time and me and Kayla were so upset and you kept trying to boost us up you were awesome like that Then we look through the truck for the 13th time and the cat comes out from the dash stretching and yawning One of those times that you knew that this would put us behind and all but you being so unselfish didn't care You were one of the most unselfish people I have ever known. Miss you

My heart is so heavy at the loss of my ex husband Scott Jordan. Life may have taken us on different paths but you still were very much my friend. Thank you for being such a good dad and pappaw. You loved deeply and your heart was so big ironically you left this earth from having a heart attack. We will always miss you Scott and things will never be the same without you. I always knew that you had this families back and God I am so grateful for that. You were so unselfish and would give to others before yourself. I don't want to believe that your gone. I pray in some way you are looking over us all. I know one day we will all see you again maybe not as it was on earth but I believe that it will be in a deeper and more beautiful way. Please tell my momma I miss and love her and kiss Lincoln and Carter for me. We are left here to grieve the loss of you but I take comfort in knowing you are in an amazing place closer to our Heavenly Father. I do believe that whole heartily and that we will all be together again and we have that to look forward to some day, but why we are still here I pray that we can live and love deeply and be even half the loving person that you were. Fly high lubber!!!! Kewala (kewwwawwa) Will hold your memory in her heart every day I live until I see you again. Forever Debra Jordan Crisco
