Distance, time and experiences may have separated us, but I felt a connection to Dave from the first time he took the time to listen, to talk....I believe this was one of his greatest gifts...he had a way of offering comfort and a sense of protection. He exhibited an inner strength and always put the needs and feelings of others before his own. He will be greatly missed by all those whose lives he has touched. Isaiah 40:31"But they that wait upon the LORD shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint."

What can i say about Dave. His family was close to ours growing up. A bit misunderstood at times..but a great kid growing up. Got to know him better from when his grandma and grandpa owned the bar on 6th and Michigan. Called Hilda's cozy corner. I was good friends with his brother Dan (rip) he looked up to his brother Dan. When he passed..we became a little closer. He would come over and would teach him what I knew on the guitar. We would talk about troubled feelings he was going through as I related to some of those feelings as well. We grew apart as our lives changed and we got older. I would run into him a time or two. And we would do some small talk. But we always had the respect for each other. He was a good kid.

Dave was always helping people, he could do most anything. But what I will remember most is his artistic talent. He has illustrated for a writer and is published, He wrote the most amazing songs and he was truly a talented guitar player. He sparked a love of reading and writing in his son, along with many many interests. He will sorely missed by those who loved him. Laura Berkebill.

Uncle Dave was as selfless and down to earth as they come. He was always there to lend a listening ear or a word of advice, and I always looked forward to the limited time I was able to spend with him. Rest in peace Uncle Dave.
