I visited with Joanne each time I dropped off lunch for her. She was always sharing stories of her family and all things going on in her life. She was a bright spot to my day. I will miss her.

There is a lot to share about this amazing lady, she has always been there to make sure everyone is doing good, and would help in anyways she could. She was the first to say yes to taking me to appointments/ interviews etc.. and she would sit out in her car while I was there no matter how long it took, I'd always come back outside and see her in her car sleeping waiting for me. I'd always mess with her when I got in the car saying you sleeping? Knowing the only response anyone would ever get from her, " no I wasn't sleeping" okay grandma lol.I have alot of memories with her from going to bingo with grandma. Or her watching me during the day as a little boy, while I played the part of Dennis the menace. As well as trying to sneak into grandpas off limits office. Or sitting at her kitchen table watching Teletubbies while we were munching on snacks.She will be missed by everyone and never forgotten.

She was a wonderful woman that I got to know when I delivered her meds. Going to definitely miss seeing her!

One of my favorite memories with her is playing cards against humanity
