“ Dad, life has been tough, but you taught me one thing— never give up. I'm trying to become someone you'd be proud of. And I pray for you every single day. Nothing can fill up the space you left behind in my heart a year ago. I wish I could have one more chance to be with you! There is not a day when I do not think of you and the love you had shown towards me. You are forever alive in my heart. I love you dad. I miss you even more!

Your son,
Gus

Today, we celebrate you in remembrance of your beautiful heart and soul, contagious smile, wittiness, your dark and off the wall amazing sense of humor, your courage and strength, unforgettable jokes and for being YOU no matter what others thought!

Happy 44th birthday to my ex-hubby of 16yrs/father of my son/step father to JoeJoe/MY best friend 'James Hernandez' aka Hercules Hernandez! 🙏

WE all love and miss you terribly and No words could ever heal the sorrow we each feel as we are broken in our own way for our own reasons with your loss “ Gone but not forgotten, passed on but still alive through us, you left this world so suddenly and left the ones that love you still so completely lost and alone.

You left an empty space with your leaving filled only with pain and sadness and a touch of anger too, it feels so unfair that you were taken and that we were separated so soon.

Your still missed everyday more then words can say, if tears could build a path then we'd be together once again.

Four months ago today that you've been gone and it's so hard to keep going on, I wish that we'd had just one more day but then one day more would've never be enough.

The hollow, empty space within our heart is full of such pain today, we'd give anything to go back in time and change that one fateful day and have you with us once more.

The only comfort that we can find is knowing that your still with us, your the guardian angel that looks out for Gus and us and I know that your in a better place but that doesn't mean that I don't still miss you.

I see your smile when I'm alone and hear your laugh all of a sudden, I'm doing my best to be strong and go on the way I know you'd want us to but it's so hard without you here.

Rest in peace today and always, know that your still loved
more then words can say and missed so much everyday, you'll always live on in our hearts.

“ Thank you , that is beautiful

“ I miss you so much J, that it hurts knowing you're gone. I mourn for you frequently as I am right now, as I never got a chance to help you. Your stubbornness took away my chance of a possible last hope to beating the disease together that took you...Now we'll never know. Now we mourn.

Let's not forget the time she brought a rabbit into the house still alive to have fun with and so her and Harley could chase around . That was one adventurous night .

Rose mother - April 10, 2020 at 11:41 AM

“ My condolences & prayers to the family of my son-in-law James Hernandez. James was one of a kind. When my daughter Jessica first introduced me to him, I thought to myself he’s a very serious guy & looks like a mafioso . As the days, weeks & months went by they got married & had a very beautiful wedding & I was one happy, happy momma . In the yr. of 2001 my grandson Augustus McRae Hernandez was born. James now had 2 sons to raise. You see that’s why I say James was one of a kind cause, when he got married to my daughter he raised her son Manuel Joseph Granados the 111 as his own. James was very compassionate & a hard worker as well. He did a great job on raising his two sons. I went like about 4 x’s to Wisconsin to visit them & when I did I really enjoyed every moment of it even though it was so hard and sad for me to say goodbye when I was getting ready to come back home to Fresno. One thing I can say is I really enjoyed their cooking especially because his barbecue skills were on point and I mean on point . I also would include my homemade flour tortillas which, he really enjoyed. When James was eating he wouldn’t see me staring at him but, I would see that he would tear a big piece of the flour tortilla and put food on it and shoved it in his mouth . I’m soooooo happy that I got to know him & to have had him as my wonderful son-in-law. There will never & I mean never be another son-in-law to ever take his precious spot. I’m sure going to miss u dearly . James was an amazing & interesting guy. u & always will & to me u’ll never, ever be 4gotten “ thank you mommy, so many emotions running through me reading this... I know he’s laughing too!

Jess, ex-wife/bff - April 10, 2020 at 01:50 PM

“ I am sadden to hear about his untimely death. James was a monster I enjoyed never ending fun times. I have a great story of him and I at a bar in Fresno and when we talked some how we would remember that story and laugh. James you will be missed. To Gus his son hold on to those memories to help you through. To Jessica stay strong regardless of everything I know you loved this man. Take care and God Bless you all.
